Dear Mr. Patel:

I represent the Town of Tewksbury regarding the above matter.

For your information, the hearing on October 17, 2017, will have three phases: First, the evidentiary phase; second, the decision phase; and third, the penalty phase.

Before the hearing date, either you or your attorney should call me to discuss the Police Reports, the evidence, and possible resolution by agreement between the parties as to the enclosed Stipulation of Facts. If the parties are unable to stipulate to the facts, then the Town will present its witnesses as to the alleged facts contained in the Police Report.

Sincerely yours,

Charles J. Zaroulis

Program Overview

In a new community, we will:

1. Send a postcard to all households, about 3 weeks before collections begin
2. Mail a textiles recycling bag and a brochure shortly thereafter
3. Send another postcard the week that collections start
4. Mail a reminder 6-8 weeks later

Collection personnel leave behind replacement bags as full bags are collected.

Collection Dynamics

- Residents place green “Simple Recycling” bags out for collection near their recycling.
- Of the material collected:
 - A fraction is reusable clothing that can be processed and resold at thrift stores
 - The bulk of the material will supply the rag and insulation markets, as well as support re-use and reprocessing abroad
- The weekly set-out rate is about 2-3%, with the average household recycling 10-15 pounds/year curbside

About Our Collection Partner: Simple Recycling

Simple Recycling is a leader in providing effective, convenient, no cost curbside textiles collection.

- Provides curbside collection of textiles & small household items

FAQ's

Questions	Answers
What does the program cost?	Nothing. There is no cost to the community or the residents. If no material is collected, there is still no cost.
Do donors get a tax deduction?	No, but residents can continue to donate their textiles to Goodwill, the Salvation Army and others to get tax deductions if they like.
How does this impact donations to charities?	This program is designed to take textiles out of the trash, not compete with drop-off programs. People who donate textiles to charities often do so because they believe in the charity or they want the tax deduction. That won't change. This program is designed to nudge the (majority of) people who would recycle textiles if only it were more convenient.
Do you collect more than textiles?	While the primary focus is on textiles, Simple Recycling will also accept small household items that can fit in the pink bags.
What if a resident only has one bag, and a lot of stuff?	The textiles need to be bagged, but residents can use any bag as long as it's clearly marked for textiles recycling.
What if a pickup gets missed?	The resident can call and notify us. We'll arrange for pick up.
